

About Sam Houston Senior High . . .

Our school lies to the northeast of Houston and faces west on the 9400 block of Irvington, bounded on the east by the West Hardy and the Missouri-Pacific, HB&T Lines to the north by Turner Road, and to the south by Tidwell Road.

In the fall of 1955, our main building and its necessities were completed, but since then, we have grown so that our plant now includes, not only its original "shops" for agriculture, woodworking, metalworking and automotive mechanics, but also vocational buildings for the study of cosmetology, radio and television, machines, and air conditioning and refrigeration. Recently, through a kindly benefactor, we gained a greenhouse, and when it is completed by "reconstruction", we hope to see progress in soil and plant experiments.
