

Realizing that you have been much too busy this year to get pictures of all the things you've done, all the friends you've met, we have gathered hundreds of them for you. We have a whole year of achievement to renew with you.

If you represented Sam Houston with a number on your jersey, if you were a speaker in the Christmas assembly, or if you came out of English VIII with flying colors, we want to view that with you. If you welded your first perfect seam, placed second in Impromptu Speaking, framed your first lithograph, or were elected vice-president of your homeroom, CONGRATULATIONS!

We are especially concerned with you — Senior, 1965. It is our hope that you have found or very soon will find, that "right road" that leads to that very special goal in life. May you use all of the good you have learned to help make this world a better place where man, free to think, to live, to create, to build — will make tremendous strides in medicine, in literature, in art, in communication and travel, in every field that betters the chance of mankind to enjoy his height, but never to forget the responsibilities that accompany his freedom.
